MURDER CHARGES MAY BE PLACED AGAINST GERMAN SUBMARINE CREWS

LONDON, March 8.—The admiralty announces that it is not justified in extending honors to the crews of German submarine boats, owing to their methods, and that it is intended to segregate them under special restrictions, pending their possible conviction at the conclusion of peace.

The admiralty states that this ruling applies to the twenty-nine officers and men of German submarine U-5, which was sunk recently off Dover.

The policy to be adopted toward the crews of German submarines is in answer to the demand of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, retired, and others that such men be tried for murder, and the admiralty statement indicates that the government has this in mind.

Operations of U-8.

The statement refers to the generous treatment accorded German officers and men saved, numbering upward of 1,000, and then says with reference to the U-8:

"This vessel had been operating in the Straits of Dover and in the English channel, and there is a strong probability that she had been guilty of attacking and sinking unarmed merchantmen and non-combatants, neutrals and women. In particular the steamer Orizon is missing, and there is grave reason to fear that she has been sunk with all hands—twenty.

"There is, of course, great difficulty in bringing home particular crimes to any individual German submarine, and it may be that the evidence necessary to establish conviction will not be obtained until after the conclusion of peace. Meanwhile, persons against whom such charges are pending must be subject to a special restriction, and cannot be accorded the distinction of their rank or be allowed to mix with other prisoners of war."

Details of Destruction.

A report received from Rear Admiral the Hon. Horace Hood, on the sinking of the U-8, as made public by the admiralty, shows that the submarine was finally destroyed by the torpedo boat destroyers Gurkha and Maori. The other destroyers which took part in the hunt were the Viking, Nubian, Mohawk, Falcon, Kangaroo, Cosack, Leven, Fawn and Ure. The operations were directed by the officer commanding the flotilla, Capt. C. D. Johnson, and were marked by skill and promptitude, according to the report.

THOUSANDS SEE BRITISH SHIP SINK AFTER AN EXPLOSION OFF COAST

LIFRACOMBE, England, Sunday (delayed), via London, March 9, 1:21 a.m.—The British steamer Bengrove was seen in distress and sounding her siren five miles off this shore at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Forty minutes later the ship's bow rose from the water and she sank by the stern. Thousands of people stood on the shore and watched her go down.

Two steamers were in the vicinity, one of which, the Paignton of Liverpool, rescued the crew of thirty-three and local lifeboats brought them ashore amid the cheers of the populace. The captain of the Bengrove made this statement:

"We had no warning. There was a loud explosion, which threw us all on board off our feet and covered them with debris and coal, but nobody was seriously hurt. We were looking at the ship quickly and orderly. We watched the ship sink, and then came ashore through the agency of the Paignton."

FIFTEEN BRITISH STEAMERS SUNK BY GERMANS SINCE JANUARY 21

LONDON, March 8.—Fifteen British steamers sunk out of a total of 8,734 vessels of more than 3,000 tons which arrived at British ports or departed from them from January 21 to March 5 was the record achievement of German submarines, according to figures issued by the admiralty. Vessels of all nationalities are taken into account, excluding, however, those used by the admiralty for naval and military purposes. Twenty-nine members of the crews of the steamers torpedoed lost their lives.

The total number of vessels which arrived at British ports during this period was 4,619, while the number which departed was 4,115. The figures given by the admiralty follow:

January 21 to 27—Arrivals, 823; sailings, 680; torpedoed, 1.

January 28 to February 3—Arrivals, 677; sailings, 742; torpedoed, 6; lives lost, 20.

February 4 to February 10—Arrivals, 734; sailings, 664; torpedoed, none.

February 11 to February 17—Arrivals, 722; sailings, 686; torpedoed, 1; lives lost, 2.

February 18 to February 24—Arrivals, 708; sailings, 673; torpedoed, 7; lives lost, 2.

February 25 to March 5—Arrivals, 595; sailings, 669; torpedoed, none.

Twenty-five ships, the admiralty statement says, were unsuccessfully attacked between February 1 and March 5.

BRITISH AEROS ATTACK OSTEND; GERMAN ZEPPELIN IS DESTROYED

LONDON, March 9.—The admiralty has issued the following statement:

"Wing Commander Longmore reports that an air attack on Ostend was carried out Sunday afternoon by six aeroplanes of the naval wing. Of these two had to return, owing to their petrol freezing. The remainder bombed Ostend and dropped eleven bombs on the submarine repair base and four bombs on the Kurssal, the headquarters of the military."

"All the machines and pilots returned. It is probable that considerable damage was done. No submarines were seen in the basin. The attack was carried out in a fresh north-west wind."

Zepplin Reported Lost.

AMSTERDAM, via London, March 9.—The Telegraaf's Tielmont, Belgium, correspondent, in a dispatch, confirms the report of the destruction there last Thursday of Zepplin airship L-8, which was forced to make a hurried descent owing to a derangement of its motors.

The correspondent says the airship collided with some trees and smashed its cars and that seventeen of its crew of forty-one men were killed.

SECOND GREAT WAR WITH RUSSIA BELIEVED INEVITABLE BY GERMANY

LONDON, March 9.—The Amsterdam correspondent of Reuters' Telegram Company says that the Berlin newspaper Vorwaerts reproduces an article from the Wochenschrift, a Berlin weekly publication, by Prof. Paul Rohrbach, who, the Vorwaerts says, reflects the government view.

The article recalls, says the correspondent, that Frederick the Great was the conqueror in the seven years' war, although he failed to gain a square mile of territory, and held his own only by straining every nerve. His victory consisted in the fact that he compelled the enemy to recognize Prussian power, with all its logical consequences for the altered situation in Europe.

"Prof. Rohrbach," continues the correspondent, "considers that Germany might likewise regard herself victorious if, at the end of the struggle, her combined enemies were obliged to desert in their intention to destroy her military power and fall back upon the same condition as before the war, thus surrendering their resources were exhausted more quickly than Germany's. In that case, without fighting the struggle out to a complete triumph, Germany might enter a new epoch with better prospects."

"Prof. Rohrbach also develops the theory that a lasting peace with Russia is unthinkable, and that, therefore, a second war is almost inevitable."

VACCINATION TO BE FREE.

Interstate Mail Handlers to Be Treated by Public Health Service.

Vaccination against smallpox and typhoid fever is to be performed gratis by the public health service for civil employees of the government handling mail in interstate traffic. The vaccination is not compulsory, but at the option of the employee.

The employee eligible to this free vaccination may, by virtue of the order just issued by Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury Department, apply at places designated by Surgeon General Blue of the public health service, and there and then receive the inoculation against disease. He must bring with him, however, a certificate from his immediate chief establishing the qualification of the applicant as a mail handler.

The hygienic laboratory, 25th and E streets, is designated as the Washington station where applicants under the order must receive vaccination. From one to fifteen stations in nearly every State, including Alaska, are enumerated in the list given by Surgeon General Blue.
